Dear professor Firdaus:

The reviewer of Economic Crisis and Regime Transition in Indonesian Democracy considers that the article is approved with corrections. The authors conducted a socio-historical review to explain the correlation between the economic crisis and the regime's transition to Indonesia's democracy. A relevant fact of this study is that social violence and anarchy occur at every change in the political regime, which is constantly accompanied by a series of economic crises. 1. The authors should avoid placing citations without their corresponding bibliographical reference. 2. The bibliographical citations are not based on APA standards. 3. There are important grammar, spelling, and punctuation errors; these should be reviewed. 4. The article has some mistakes in the format that should be reviewed".

We remind you to keep the same file name (200509Firdaus) when you submit the corrected article. Send it only to the email revisorrevistaespacios@gmail.com through which, only, you should request information in reference to your publication.
